About iEMSS 2024

The 12th International Congress on Environmental Modelling and Software will be held from June 23–27, 2024 in East Lansing at Michigan State University. You can find out more on the congress website at conference.iemss.org

This site is where you can submit abstracts. Please follow the instructions for authors, use the template provided and for any questions, contact the conference organising team. Please note that for final acceptance, at least one author will be required to have registered by April 15th 2024 to present the abstract on site at the conference. Any abstracts without registered authors will be removed from the conference proceedings. Please note, that we are - for the first time - testing an open-access system (OJS) to operate the submission and review process for our iEMSSs biennial conference. Together with the conference website, we intend to enable a much more rapid and streamlined production of conference proceedings and to create an open access repository for all iEMSSs abstracts over time. As we develop this, we ask all authors for their support and patience, as the process may not be entirely smooth and we will use the lessons learned from this conference to adjust and tweak the system. It is our intention to stick with this system for all future conferences, making it easier for authors, session organisers and stream convenors to work with a familiar process, instead of having to adjust to a different conference management system each time. We thank you in advance for your support in this!

Read the “Submission Preparation Checklist” section (see Arrow 1) and prepare the abstract using one of the available templates (Arrow 2).

When ready, click “Submit a new abstract” (Arrow 3) and follow instructions.
